Dear Valued Customer,

Over the years, the used cooking oil removed from your restaurant by Darling Ingredients Inc. (you may know us as DAR PRO Solutions, Darling Ingredients' restaurant services brand) has been recycled for use mainly in the production of animal feeds in the US and internationally rather than being disposed of in landfills. In recent years, the use has shifted to include the production of biodiesel and renewable diesel, both in the US as well as in Europe.

Darling is International Sustainable and Carbon Certification System ("ISCC") certified which pledges conformity to the sustainability criteria of the European Directive on renewable energy (2009/28/CE). This certification illustrates Darling's environmental endeavors to reduce greenhouse gasses, the protection of water and forests, soil and biodiversity, and the adherence to social legislation.

Darling is required to ask each year for an ISCC Self-Declaration form from each customer, in a format established by the ISCC. This Self-Declaration provides that the used cooking oil picked up from your establishment(s) (i) is entirely of vegetable origin; (ii) has not been mixed with fresh oil; and (iii) does not contain animal fats other than through the cooking process.

The Self Declaration, also linked to on this webpage, is deemed to be signed and is already a part of your used cooking oil agreement or contract with Darling. By this letter, we ask that you sign and date the attached ISCC Self-Declaration and return it by email to ISCC@darpro.com. The Self Declaration is deemed valid for all deliveries since January 1, 2017. Customers of Darling are not required to agree in writing, but if a customer does not agree to the Self Declaration, he/she must submit a statement of disagreement to Darling within a 14-day period. If you do not object and/or do not respond, then it will be presumed by Darling that the used cooking oil presented by you for collection by Darling is used cooking oil made up of vegetable fats and oils that have been used for frying of foods for human consumption and their use has been within the normal range of your business protocols.

We here at Darling Ingredients Inc. greatly appreciate your business and strive to service your restaurant to the best of our ability. Should there be any questions, please feel free to speak with your Darling Ingredients representative.

Sincerely,

/s/ Brian Shultz
